

West Island Champion

Biking 280km to raise money for Cancer is heroic. Doing it when you are only 16 and have battled cancer most of your young life is super heroic. Pictured here is West Island cancer survivor Cody Belliveau hugging his team co-captain Elizabeth Tropea at the finish line of the 2-day, 286km, Ride to Conquer Cancer 2010 held in July. Cody isn't finished! On Friday, August 13th he will be meeting up with 401 cyclists who have cycled in from Toronto Children's Hospital and are destined for the Montreal Children's Hospital. Cody will meet them at Cunningham's in Saint-Anne-de-Bellevue and will lead them on their final stretch into Montreal
